

PROF. VIRCHOW.

The Scientist Speaks of the Pestilence in Russia.

The Belief That Winter Will Stop the Cholera is Erroneous.

The Professor Advises Personal Cleanliness and Attention to Digestion as the Best Individual Precautions—Carbolic Acid and Sublimated Disinfectants.

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Prof. Virchow, who has returned from a visit to Russia, speaks in terms of praise of the Russian officials who, in some respects, he says, are in advance of those of Germany. He excepts from these expressions of approval the officials of the Volga region whom he evidently considers not as trustworthy as those whom he has met in other parts of the empire. He says that Russian statistics can be relied upon, although their value would always be relative. West Russia Prof. Virchow reports to be free from the cholera plague, and although the cholera is present in Moscow, yet the fact that 600 beds are empty in the hospital bears evidence that it is not raging to such an extent as to tax the resources of that city.

In regard to the probable duration of the cholera epidemic, Prof. Virchow says that the belief that the arrival of winter will stop the cholera is erroneous, as there have been epidemics of the disease in winter. In regard to the symptoms and nature of cholera, Prof. Virchow gives his opinion that even when there are symptoms of Asiatic cholera the fact that the comma bacillus, peculiar to the disease, is not found, proves that it is not Asiatic cholera.

As to the remedies, Prof. Virchow says that spraying with diluted carbolic acid, is useless, in his opinion. He advises personal cleanliness and attention to digestion, as the best individual precautions. As a general preventative, Prof. Virchow considers that a perfect quarantine would be effective, and that travelers should be carefully examined. He considers saloon passengers equally dangerous with steerage passengers, if they have been on the infected ships.

Although Prof. Virchow considers that spraying with diluted carbolic acid is not of value, he regards carbolic acid and sublimated as the best disinfectants, and he advises the washing of the hands after touching a cholera patient. While the excreta or vomit from such a patient, in the professor's opinion, are the means of communicating the infection, yet that communication can be made in numerous, different, and hardly suspected forms through bank-notes, the post, linen that is soiled, the boots or shoes, the hands and the mouth. The general tone of the professor's statement was encouraging, and he left no doubt that in his opinion the worst was known in regard to Russia.

Engineer Roasted Alive.
SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 9.—Freight train No. 61, west-bound on the Big Four, was derailed Thursday morning at Enon, eight miles west of here, from some unknown cause. Twenty-five cars were derailed, and half of that number burned up, most of them being loaded. Engineer James Ferguson, of Delaware, was caught under the locomotive, and burned alive before the eyes of others of the crew. The loss will probably run up to $200,000. Ferguson leaves a wife and two little children. He was caught at the waist by beams between two drivers, and held there until burned in sight of his companions, whom he bade good-by after making his dying requests.

Sullivan's Nose Badly Broken.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9.—Sullivan did not get up until 10:30 o'clock. His face was in worse shape Thursday morning than it was Wednesday night, and the pain is greater. Sullivan drank some hot coffee, ate some toast and boiled eggs, and then sent for Dr. Leeman. When the doctor arrived he made a careful examination and found John's nose badly broken. In fact, it was mashed flat on his face. Dr. Leeman set Sullivan's nose and dressed his cuts, after which Sullivan went back to bed and read the account of his defeat. Sullivan seems dazed at his defeat.

But One County Republican.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 9.—Election returns come in slowly, but the indications are that Fishback will lead Whipple in the race by 5,000. Only one county—Faulkner—is reported positively for the Populists while it will take the official count to decide the vote in Nevada county. But one county in the state has gone republican and that is Chicot, in which the Negroes have an overwhelming majority.

Escaped Murderer Caught.
MADISONVILLE, Ky., Sept. 9.—George R. Killough, who murdered Polly Adcock in this (Hopkins) county ten years ago, and who one year afterward broke jail at this place, has been apprehended in Arkansas. He arrived here Thursday and was placed in jail. When Killough broke jail he left a wife and one child in this city, and when apprehended he was married and had two children.

Woman Suffrage in Mississippi.
JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 9.—Female suffrage has at last won a victory in this state. The first election perhaps at which women ever voted in the south is that on the stock law question just closed in this county. Only a few experienced the privilege. The law provides that all persons who are householders and none other shall vote on the fence question. This admits all women who own a home to the right of suffrage.

Prisoners Break Jail.
CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 9.—On account of gross carelessness on the part of the sheriff and jail officials, fifteen criminals broke jail here. The escape was effected by sawing through the iron bars of the window. In the gang were four murderers under sentence. They had been working at the plan for two months. The sheriff with a posse is in pursuit.

SULLIVAN DISCONSOLATE.

He Says to McAuliffe: "Booze, My Lad, Will Down the Strongest; Don't Touch It."

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9.—The fallen idol passed a restless night at the St. Charles, and before daylight broke and while all-night roysterers were still away in numbers the defeated man walked into the almost deserted corridors of the hotel. He looked haggard, and his swollen face aroused feelings of pity in the hearts of those who watched him.

The reverses of fortune have cut Sullivan to the quick. He is heart-broken. "An American has whipped me," he asserted. "That is the only satisfaction that is left to me now." The efforts of his friends to cheer him up were unavailing. "To think that a boy has beaten me," was another lament. Now that the end has come he has cursed the enemy that swept him on to sure defeat. To Jack McAuliffe he delivered a temperance lesson. "Booze, my lad, will down the strongest; don't touch it." The advice was intended to be personal and was received without comment.

The last scene in the ring is vividly recalled on every hand. Corbett was the first man to reach his prostrated antagonist to lend a helping hand. There was something pathetic in that farewell address of the ex-champion's. He spoke but few words, but there are several versions in circulation. His voice could scarcely be heard above the din. "I entered the ring once too often," was his admission. "I leave it to-night forever." In his room bitter tears of disappointment welled from eyes that could not be dried.

Words of comfort failed in their mission.

"I am beaten, beaten," was the despairing cry. Few souls were permitted to invade his quarters. The old stories of dissipation have begun again. From mouth to mouth there is one which may be of spurious coinage, but it is affirmed that the big fellow is already seeking consolation in drink. "John L. Sullivan will now board a limited express with a through ticket to the devil," is a common remark.

MORE CHOLERA VICTIMS.

The Yellow Flag Again Run Up to the Mast at Hoffman Island.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A dispatch received from Sandy Hook says that the Rugia, Normannia and Hoffman island hoisted the yellow flag Thursday morning. According to the code of signals arranged by Dr. Jenkins Wednesday, this means that the scourge has fastened on more victims. Until the report comes from the vessels and island, it will be impossible to learn how many have been taken ill, or whether they are dead. A death was reported Thursday morning of a cholera patient on Swinburne island as having occurred Wednesday night. When the official report is received it is supposed there will be further additions. The government tug Narkeeta is patrolling the sound off Willett's Point with orders to stop all vessels from foreign ports.

A Hog's Long Fast.

BLUFFTON, O., Sept. 9.—On June 19 last, a strawstack was blown over by the wind, burying a 110-pound hog for Chris Locher, a farmer living north of town. The hog was not missed until a few days afterward. Imagine Locher's surprise Wednesday afternoon while removing the old stack to see the hog come out of his prison in good health, after being shut up two months and a half without food or water.

The French in Africa.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—A dispatch from Kotonou states that Col. Dodds, commanding the French expedition against the Dahomeans, has with the main part of his forces, gone up the Oueme river as far as Koda. The dispatch adds that Col. Dodds is daily receiving offers of submission from the tribes. The French forces consist of 3,500 troops and 2,000 porters.

Three Were Blown to Atoms.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 9.—A report has reached here of a terrible explosion four miles from Bessemer. According to the report received, the boiler of a steam sawmill exploded, wrecking the machinery and instantly killing three men. One man was so badly wounded that he died an hour later. Three of the men were blown to atoms. All were laborers.

Habits City Sullivan.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—An immense multitude collected in Newspaper Row Wednesday night to watch the bulletins of the New Orleans fight. When the news of Sullivan's defeat was sent out, there was a mighty roar, mingled with exclamations of sorrow, and many a rough coat-sleeve brushed the dew from eyes unused to demonstrations of pity.

St. Louis Exposition Open.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 9.—The St. Louis exposition of 1892 opened Wednesday night for a forty days' run, with an attendance of 25,000 persons. The displays are finer than ever before, and include some remarkable exhibits. The art hall especially is filled with masterpieces from the world's great painters.

Colored Voters in Conference.

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A conference of colored republicans was held here Thursday for the purpose of devising plans for a thorough organization of the colored voters of the state. The attendance was large. Addresses were delivered in the morning by Rev. J. R. B. Smith, state committeeman-at-large.

Fell Down an Elevator Shaft.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—Peter Klinge, a houseman at the St. Nicholas hotel, fell down the elevator shaft in the building Thursday afternoon. He fell from the fourth story. His hips were dislocated and internal injuries sustained, which will likely prove fatal.

Cable Director Hogs.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 9.—John Hoge, of this city, has been elected a director of a company formed to lay a submarine cable from Norfolk, Va., to Havana. The line will be operated in connection with the French Ocean Cable Co.'s line.

A LONE BANDIT.

Holds Up a Missouri Pacific Express Messenger, Securing Several Thousand Dollars.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 9.—A lone bandit held up a Missouri Pacific express messenger on the Wichita and Little Rock express on the Missouri Pacific, and after ransacking the safe made good his escape. The train left the Union depot at 9:10 o'clock, and when it reached the Grand Avenue station a masked man entered the combination baggage and express car, which was in charge of G. McLaughlin, combination baggageman and express messenger. The bandit intimidated the messenger by pointing two revolvers and finally succeeded in binding and gagging him. He then extracted the key of the express company's safe in the messenger's pocket, and opening the safe, secured five thousand dollars. When the train reached Sheffield, a suburb some distance out of the city, the robber disembarked and made off with his booty. The train proceeded several stations down the road before the robbery was discovered. The conductor found McLaughlin bound and gagged, who, after being released, told the story of the robbery as given above and telegraphed headquarters in this city. Officers started on the trail of the robber at once.

It transpires that though it took but one man to accomplish the active part of the work, he was aided by an accomplice. The accomplice guarded the rear door to the express car while the other man bound and gagged the express messenger. The safe was a very light one, had no combination, but was locked with a key. Therefore the difficulty of opening it was reduced to a minimum.

THEY WILL NOT MEET.

Champion Corbett Will Refuse to Fight Jackson Again.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9.—Champion Jim Corbett will bid adieu to his New Orleans friends Saturday afternoon, and in the beginning of next week the fistic wonder will again be in the arms of his wife. The Corbett people have engaged a special on the Piedmont Air Line, which will leave here Saturday morning at 4 o'clock. Corbett will be escorted to the train by a committee of the Southern Athletic club, and there will be a rousing send-off given the popular young pugilist, notwithstanding the early hour.

"Corbett will never meet Jackson again," said Delaney, "you may make public. We are against fighting Negroes any more, and we are particularly catering to the wishes of our southern friends in this matter. Besides, Corbett has bested Jackson already, and nothing is to be gained by fighting again. We will pay no attention to Mr. Mitchell, and for the present will ignore all challenges, because we have engagements very far ahead." Corbett went down town Thursday morning and visited his friends. He was cheered wherever he went.

EIGHT MEN KILLED.

In a Terrible Collision on the Clearfield and Cambria Road, Near Altoona, Pa.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 9.—Eight men were killed and three fatally hurt in a collision on the Clearfield and Cambria railroad Thursday evening. A work train met an up-bound passenger train in a deep cut near Eckenrode's mill. The cut was filled with wreckage. Engineer C. W. Ferry and Fireman L. Parish, of the passenger train, were taken out dead.

The engineer and fireman of the work train jumped, and escaped with slight injuries. Six foreigners, members of the work crew, were killed. Their names are unobtainable. None of the passengers of the up-bound train were hurt. The engineer of the work train is said to have disobeyed orders to lay over at Patton's to let the passenger train through.

The Garfield Park Tragedy.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The inquest over the remains of the three victims of the Garfield park shooting was begun Thursday. Testimony as to whether Brown or the police fired the first shot was conflicting, but the evidence showed that, while Brown was shooting to kill, the police fired in the air until Officer Powell was killed. Capt. Brown's remains were shipped to Fort Worth Thursday evening.

Jay Eye See Makes a Mile a Hour.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 9.—Jay Eye See paced a mile over the Hamline track, Thursday afternoon, under decidedly unfavorable conditions, in 2:08. His time at Chicago was three-quarters of a second faster, but Thursday the track was slow, an uncertain breeze was blowing diagonally across the stretch, and the air was cool, muggy and disagreeable.

Cholera in Mexico.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—It was reported at the Maritime exchange that cholera had appeared in Mexico. A cablegram from Vera Cruz was received stating that four officers and two sailors of the British steamship May were at that port sick aboard the vessel with cholera. The steamer had put into Vera Cruz in distress.

No Danger From Cholera.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 9.—Secretary Probst, of the state board of health, has been investigating the shipment from Germany to Jos. Josephs & Co., of Cincinnati, of the rags which were supposed to be infected with cholera. He states that there is no danger of a spread of the disease from the rags.

Bound for America.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The steamer Marston, carrying 900 emigrants booked to New York by the Cunard, White Star and Guyon steamship lines, started from Liverpool Thursday, the passengers being fully aware that they would have to face a quarantine of twenty days at New York.

Consul Kellogg Suspended.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The secretary of state today ordered the suspension from duty of James C. Kellogg, United States consul at Stettin, and assigned the vice-consul to the duties of the office. Kellogg was lax in his duties.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Gathered From All Parts of the Country by Telegraph.

Talmage leaves London Saturday and will preach in Dublin and Belfast. The Trades hotel, now building near World's fair grounds, will contain 3,500 rooms.

Miss Maggie Carter, aged 52, hanged herself in Johnson county, Tenn. because her favorite cat died.

Dr. Vincenzo d'Elia, of New Haven, Ct., has challenged Dr. Luis Parascunola, the same city, to fight a duel. The trouble has grown out of an old love affair.

Herr Schenkler, of Stuttgart, a tourist in the Alps, and his guide have both been killed by falling over a precipice on the Dolomite Funderfinger Spitze, near Landro.

Thomas Rooney, of Plymouth, Pa., having lost all his money and property on the result of the Sullivan-Corbett fight, committed suicide Thursday night by taking poison.

The planters of the Third district of Louisiana who favor protection, in convention here, nominated John F. White, a life-long republican of New Iberia parish, as the protectionist candidate for congress.

A murder occurred at Lattimer, Pa., Thursday, as a result of the Corbett-Sullivan fight. The victim was Anthony Weeks, miner, who debated the merits of the fight with Geo. Warwick, another miner.

At the Grand opera house, New Orleans, Thursday night, Corbett was presented with a check calling for $25,000, the amount of the purse offered by the Olympic club to the victor in Wednesday night's battle.

Capt. Keeney Hayner, of a canal boat lying at the water front, in Jersey City, shot and killed Capt. Michael Adams, of another canal boat, and then shot his wife. He discovered them in a compromising position.

Miss Minnie Gale, the actress, was married to Archibald Cushman Haynes, manager of the Equitable Life Assurance society, and vice-president of the Hamilton Diston Investment Co., in New York, Thursday evening.

The will of the late Dr. J. W. White, the eminent physician, who died at Upper Sandusky recently, was filed Thursday. He bequeaths all his property and moneyed possessions to Miss Hattie Smoots, who has served as his housekeeper for years past.

The little daughter of Daniel Moore was killed yesterday afternoon by a fall of twenty-five feet from a bridge over Mad river, west of Springfield, O. She was playing with her companions on the bridge, and approaching too near the edge, lost her footing and fell over.
